Fyi. I just told Bradley that Jared will be there and Lily won't. It's possible he may not see this before the Rally.

Bradley, Sorry for the delay, but it would be best if you work with Lily on these questions. She is at an important training course but I'm sure she'll respond as soon as she can.

It turns out that Jared Blumenfeld, our Regional Administrator, is available to come out in front of the building to talk with you and the others at 12:45 - 1 pm, but he has to leave at 1 pm for a legally required training. I hope that your timing will follow your original plan. Because Mr. Blumenfeld is available, we decided to have Lily stay at her valuable training class.
